

I was at the hearing last night and wanted to speak, but as you know, there were many more people than there was time available.

I want to tell you that as the person responsible for media relations for Family Service Association, a 100 year-old local non-profit organization, I have worked with Clear Channel for the past 12 years. I have found Clear Channel Communications' employees extremely helpful. They not only allow us to utilize their on-air talent to help raise funds and awareness for Family Service, but every single person I've worked with - from administrative staff to a Sr. VP has been cooperative and delightful to work with. They never seem to miss an opportunity to offer additional ways they can help. When non-profits in San Antonio look for community partners, Clear Channel is at the top of the list.

Even more importantly, they help communicate important messages about and to those we serve. They refuse to shy away from the difficult issues that plague our city like child and elder abuse, incest, violence in our homes, schools and neighborhoods, illiteracy, the high school dropout rate, teen pregnancy and many more. They help us educate the public in order to make our local community a better place to live. We can't make positive change alone. Without public awareness we'd be operating in a virtual vacuum. Their responsiveness to this community resonates from every facet of their business. They care about this community and when non-profits in San Antonio look for community partners, Clear Channel is at the top of the list. We are grateful for the incalculable difference Clear Channel makes in our community and extremely proud to be one of their many community partners.

Thank you for your time and the opportunity to publicly acknowledge ALL they do.
